PROCLAMATION

WHEREAS, access to quality healthcare is fundamental to the well-being, dignity, and economic security of all King County residents, yet many people continue to face barriers to affordable and comprehensive care; and

WHEREAS, Seattle/King County Clinic has been a beacon of hope and service, providing tens of thousands of people with essential dental, vision, and medical care at no cost, ensuring that those most in need receive the support and treatment they deserve; and

WHEREAS, the success of Seattle/King County Clinic is made possible by the unwavering dedication of community partners: clinical and non-clinical volunteers who donate their time, expertise, and resources to serve their neighbors in need; and

WHEREAS, this extraordinary initiative exemplifies the power of public-private partnerships and demonstrates how collective action can address health disparities, promote equity, and strengthen the overall health of our communities; and

WHEREAS, King County is committed to ensuring that every person has access to high-quality, affordable healthcare, and to supporting programs that expand healthcare access and reduce inequities.

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Shannon Braddock, Executive of King County, do hereby proclaim April 7, 2025 to be in King County. I encourage all residents to support efforts that expand healthcare access and advance health equity across our region.

Access to Healthcare Day
